PHONE SCAM ALERT

Beware, you may not be talking to who you think you are! Just because the name and number on your caller ID looks local doesn't mean it is.

It is very easy for scam artists to change caller ID names and numbers to appear as someone other than they actually are.

Never give out any personal information to a caller on the telephone unless you have a way of verifying who you are talking to. If in doubt, tell them that you will call them back at the number on the caller ID.
